Introduction

The first Kentucky feed law was enacted in 1906 to provide protection for the state's livestock and poultry producers. Periodic revisions have continued to carry out this overall objective of consumer protection with the incorporation of legal requirements that responded to advances in livestock feeding practices and feed manufacturing technology.

To ensure the safe and effective use of drugs in livestock feeds, the feed law was revised to include authority to inspect mills for compliance with good manufacturing practices (GMP's) for medicated feed and require that drug and feed additive usage conform with Food & Drug Administration (FDA) approvals. Provisions are included to protect against the distribution of feeds adulterated with poisonous or deleterious substances.

A relatively new aspect of feed regulation is the prevention of unsafe residues in human food that may result from misused or contaminated feed. The feed law further protects the feed industry from unscrupulous competition. Functions of the feed law are to inform and protect the feed purchaser, provide an atmosphere for fair and equitable competition, and assist in assuring the safety of human food.

The commercial feed law regulates materials offered for sale as feed or for mixing in feed with the exemption of whole and unprocessed grain, raw meat, hay, straw, stover, silage, cobs, husks, and hulls when unground and not mixed with other materials. Typical products regulated include pet foods, complete and concentrate feeds for livestock and poultry, soybean meal and other feed ingredients, drug premixes, vitamin and mineral supplements, liquid feed, and protein blocks.

Registration of each commercial feed is required before distribution to ensure that required label information is provided the purchaser. This involves the annual review of approximately 10,000 labels to evaluate the guaranteed analysis, ingredient statement, and feeding directions. Medicated feeds are reviewed for approved drug usage, statement of drug purpose, and any required warning, caution, or special feeding instructions. Misleading and unsubstantiated information is prohibited.

Approximately 15,000 different commercial feeds are registered for distribution by 914 feed companies. Kentucky has 258 facilities that manufacture livestock feed or pet food, produce a feed ingredient, or distribute their own private label product.

Inspection and Sampling

Regulatory inspectors conduct 2,110 official inspections of feed manufacturers and retailers of bagged and bulk feed to monitor the distribution of two million tons of commercial feed. Official samples were collected of 4,333 feeds from over 500 retail and manufacturing facilities to determine compliance with label guarantees. Fifty-two percent of the samples were obtained at the dealer, 47% at the manufacturing site and 1% at other locations. Twenty-one thousand tons were sampled. Sixty-eight percent of the samples represented bagged feed, 19% bulk feed, 0.8% liquid feed, 1.6% blocks, 4.5% canned products, and 6.1% other.

Samples were collected from 57 different types of commercial feed including complete feeds, supplements, premixes, ingredients and pet foods. Samples collected represented 183 poultry, 469 beef, 382 dairy, 291 swine, 27 sheep, 65 rabbit, 104 calf and 380 horse complete and supplement feeds; and 17 liquid feeds, 65 blocks, 328 mineral feeds, 71 drug premixes, and 240 miscellaneous complete and supplement feeds. The inspection of feed ingredients included the sampling of 12 alfalfa products, 55 animal products, 80 corn products, 31 cottonseed products, 84 distillers products, 50 mineral ingredients, 45 molasses products, 8 oat products, 272 soybean products, 35 wheat products, and 33 other ingredients.

A customer-formula feed is manufactured to the specifications of the final purchaser. Labeling requires the invoice to list the pounds of each ingredient in the batch and, if a drug is used, the purpose of the drug, drug level in the feed, feeding directions and any required warning or caution statements. The lab evaluated 234 samples were taken to monitor customer- formula feed production. All samples are reviewed by the feed microscopist to verify the list of ingredients. Testing for expected nutrient and drug content is conducted to assure the feeds are manufactured to the purchaser's specifications.

The inspection of pet foods continues as a vital component of the feed regulatory program. Samples were collected from 241 dry, 3 soft-moist and 109 canned dog foods; 67 dry, 9 soft-moist and 92 canned cat foods; 82 specialty dog and cat products; 56 specialty pet products; 53 aquarium fish foods; 107 specialty bird feeds; and 4 wild bird feeds.. Labeling for dog and cat foods must include a nutritional adequacy statement to indicate if the product is complete for maintenance or all life stages. The AAFCO Dog and Cat Nutrient Profiles for maintenance and growth are utilized to evaluate adequacy for the life stage claimed. If a guarantee was not stated for calcium, phosphorus, salt, copper, iron, magnesium, manganese, potassium and zinc, then the appropriate AAFCO Dog or Cat Nutrient Profile was utilized for dry, canned and soft-moist products. Lysine content was monitored in dry dog and cat foods. This extensive testing substantially increases consumer assurance that pet foods being marketed are nutritionally adequate.

Feed Mill Inspections

The medicated feed program for the United States currently places feed mills into one of two classifications. One classification is for mills that mix Category II Type A medicated feed articles. To purchase these drug sources a mill must be licensed with FDA. The second classification is for mills that mix drugs commonly referred to as exempt. Purchase of these drugs do not require a FDA license. Most mills mix only exempt drugs. All mills must comply with good manufacturing practice regulations. Non-licensed mills are subject to less stringent regulations. During 2000, Regulatory Services inspectors performed 56 inspections of non-licensed mills. Two inspections of licensed mills were conducted as part of a national program by FDA and other participating state feed control agencies. These inspections are to ensure that drugs mixed in feed are safe and effective for livestock and poultry. Additionally, the regulations play a major public health role in helping to maintain the wholesomeness and safety of the food we consume.

Forty-one mills were inspected that manufacture only non-medicated feed. These inspections checked for compliance with custom mix labeling requirements and reviewed housekeeping practices and other milling procedures.

BSE Rule Inspections

The Division participated in a national program conducted by FDA to ensure compliance with the BSE Rule. These regulations are designed to prevent the establishment and amplification of Bovine Spongiform Encephalopathy (BSE), sometimes referred to as "Mad Cow Disease," through animal feed. The regulation prohibits the feeding to ruminants certain proteins derived from mammalian tissue. Meat and bone meal that contains rendered cattle tissue is a prohibited protein. Mills that receive prohibited materials must utilize adequate procedures to prevent their use in ruminant feeds. Prohibited materials are approved for use in non-ruminant feeds such as swine and poultry. Feeds that may contain prohibited material must bear the cautionary statement "Do not feed to cattle or other ruminants." The Division conducted 8 BSE Rule inspections under contract with FDA. All Kentucky feed mills and renderers have had an initial inspection by either our Division or FDA since 1998.

Food Safety

Feed contamination concerns feed manufacturers and regulatory officials due to its potential impact on the state's livestock industry and possible carryover to human food. Prevention is the ultimate goal and a rapid response to contain a problem can prevent it from becoming a major disaster. Feed industry personnel involved in receiving, manufacturing, and distribution are the first line of defense. Unusual occurrences such as feeds or ingredients with abnormal appearance, odor, or foreign material; or, reports of multiple livestock deaths or chemical leaks warrant immediate investigation. Regulatory Services inspectors and laboratory staff are available to assist with the investigation of suspected problems. GMP and BSE Rule inspections, label review, feed microscopy, drug and mycotoxin testing, and other feed control activities contribute significantly to the nationwide effort to maintain a safe food supply for consumers of meat, milk, and eggs.

Financial

The feed regulatory program is supported by inspection fees paid on commercial livestock feeds and pet foods sold in Kentucky. A fee of thirty-five cents per ton is paid on branded complete feeds and supplements, non-exempt ingredients and grain sold and mixed in custom mix feeds. A five-cent per ton fee is applicable to distillers by-products containing more than 75% moisture and brewers wet grains and whey distributed without further processing for consumption by the purchaser's livestock. An exemption is provided for ingredients used to manufacture registered feeds and farmer-owned grain mixed in custom mix feeds. The annual inspection fee for a product sold exclusively in a package weight of 10 pounds or less is $50 per product. During 2000, the auditor and data processing personnel assisted firms to assure accurate reporting and payment of inspection fees of $761,646

2000 Highlights

Testing—Laboratory testing was conducted for over 50 different nutrients and components to provide the broad analytical support required to test feeds for their principal constituents. The laboratory reported results including testing for crude protein, crude fat, crude fiber, acid detergent fiber, lysine, non-protein nitrogen, twenty different drugs and antibiotics, vitamin A, thirteen macro and trace minerals, aflatoxin, vomitoxin and fumonisin. The feed laboratory provides accurate feed analyses that are essential for feed regulation.

Product Suitability—In 2000, feed samples were tested and the findings evaluated to ensure their nutrient content was suitable based on the intended use of the feed. National Research Council Nutrient Recommendations, University of Kentucky scientists, and normal industry practice are utilized to evaluate and assist feed manufacturers to assure their feeds are nutritionally suitable for their intended purpose.

A feed is deemed adulterated if its labeling would deceive or mislead the purchaser with respect to its composition or suitability. This unique aspect of testing and evaluation of nutrient for suitability significantly enhances the consumer protection provided the purchaser of commercial feed. Testing also provides verification that supplemental nutrient sources listed as ingredients are present in the feed.

Feed Labeling—The feed label is the fundamental basis for providing consumer information and protection, equitable competition and regulation. Effective feed labeling is essential to accomplish these objectives. Regulatory efforts continue to assist manufacturers to provide informative labeling that promotes the safety and usefulness of feeds for livestock production.

A calculation program is available to assist local feed mills to determine the nutrient levels in their feeds. This information is helpful in establishing label guarantees and evaluating nutritional suitability. Example labels are provided in a Microsoft Word file that the local mill can easily edit to generate a label for their feed. The feed manufacturer has the responsibility for the label information and feed quality. These aids and the assistance provided by the area Regulatory Inspectors has resulted in more accurate, informative, professional and uniform labeling throughout the state. We believe this process strengthened our excellent working relationship with the regulated industry and has achieved a level of labeling compliance previously unattainable.

Product Registration—The Kentucky Commercial Feed Law provides that qualified firms may be granted an exemption from the registration of each feed prior to distribution. Currently, 17 firms have received an exemption based on their demonstrated ability to label feeds in conformance with labeling requirements.

Mycotoxin Testing

The Division of Regulatory Services continues its efforts to monitor feeds for mold toxins. Testing is available for aflatoxin, fumonisin and vomitoxin. The following data were obtained during 2000:

Aflatoxin—A total of 274 samples were tested. Eight samples exceeded the 20 ppb action level established by FDA for human food, dairy feed and feed for immature animals and poultry. Six of the samples were all associated with whole cottonseed, corn, and other feed ingredients located at two dairy farms. Testing assisted the dairymen in identifying the source of aflatoxin in milk. FDA has established higher aflatoxin limits for corn and peanut products of 100 ppb when fed to mature poultry and breeding cattle and swine, and 200 ppb for finishing swine and 300 ppb for finishing beef. Testing indicated no general aflatoxin problem based on the low occurrence rate.

Fumonisin—This recently identified mycotoxin is known to produce equine leukoencephalomalacia in horses. FDA has established a maximum fumonisin guideline of 5 ppm in horse feed, 10 ppm in swine feed, and 50 ppm in the non-roughage portion of the diet of beef cattle. No recommendation has been established for dairy cattle. In 2000, Regulatory Services tested 447 samples for fumonisin using an Elisa quantitative quick test with a detection sensitivity of 0.5 ppm. Our testing program places considerable emphasis on monitoring horse feeds with most samples being tested for fumonisin. The American Association of Veterinary Laboratory Diagnosticians has recommended not to feed corn screenings to horses. As a further precaution, it may be appropriate to exclude or limit corn milling by-products in horse feeds. The potential for fumonisin toxicity continues to suggest caution for manufacturers of horse feed.

Vomitoxin—This toxin is often associated with feed refusal of swine feeds containing wheat. Sixty-five samples were tested for vomitoxin. Testing found no samples to exceed the FDA guideline of 5 ppm for swine feed.

The data presented in this publication were compiled from analyses of official samples taken in 2000. The information is intended to acquaint you with activities of the feed control program and advise the feed purchaser of the performance of feed manufacturers distributing feed in Kentucky.

Analytical Variation

When is a sample declared in violation of a label guarantee? This decision is generally made by application of analytical variations (AVs) for the type of analysis conducted. The AVs are guidelines for helping control officials make this routine decision. AVs are allowances for the inherent variability in laboratory analysis. No manufacturing variation is included in the AVs. The AVs are generated from the AAFCO check sample program which has approximately 200 participating laboratories. The Kentucky AVs approximate those developed by AAFCO except for the declaring of excessive trace element levels. In addition to the AV, practical allowances were made for the low concentration of trace elements actually added to provide the minimum guarantee and contribution of naturally present trace elements in mineral ingredients and feedstuffs. The AV is intended to apply to a single determination made under routine laboratory conditions. The Regulatory Services laboratory always retests violative samples before results are reported. A single AV does not fit the full range of nutrient levels that is encountered in products (for example, magnesium in dairy feed at 0.2% and in magnesium oxide at 54%). Judgment is necessary in the review of each sample report. Considerable emphasis is placed on evaluating a manufacturer's overall performance record established during the previous and current year.
