Livestock Producers Please be aware

The U. S. Food and Drug Administration has ruled that as of January 1, 2017 the following drugs will require a Veterinary Feed Directive (VFD) if added to feed. A prescription will be needed if used in water soluble form. The VFD or prescription must be provided by a licensed veterinarian.

Apramycin Chlortetracycline Erythromycin Hygromycin B Lincomycin Neomycin Oleandomycin Ormetoprim

 $\stackrel{}{\leftarrow}$

☆

☆

22

 $\stackrel{\wedge}{\simeq} \stackrel{\wedge}{\simeq} \stackrel{\wedge}{\simeq}$

☆

☆

Penicillin Streptomycin Sulfadimethoxine Sulfamerazine Sulfamethazine Sulfaquinoxaline Tylosin

University of Kentucky. College of Agriculture, Food and Environment Regulatory Services

To learn more about the Veterinary Feed Directive please visit our website at: http://www.rs.uky.edu